TRIUMPH SPITFIRE / GT6

BOOT FLOOR

In the last few years there was only a more or less exactly fitting universal boot floor from England for the Triumph Spitfire and the Triumph GT6. In order to ensure a true-to-the-original restoration of the vehicles, we have decided to manufacture the boot floor panels according to the design and appearance of the Stanpart series parts. Both the spare wheel holder (Spitfire) and the cable fixing lugs are already fitted as on the original parts.

In addition, we use high-quality, galvanised deep-drawn sheet metal as the basis for production, so that corrosion is virtually impossible. All the necessary holes and fastening nuts are already present, which simplifies the assembly just as much as the perfect fit of the boot floor.

- » made of galvanised deep-drawn sheet metal
- » high-quality primed
- » perfect fit and therefore easy to install
