POLYURETHANE BUSH SET AND BRACKET FOR FRONT AXLE

Rubber chassis parts are installed in almost every classic car. It is all the more annoying when they become cracked, porous and brittle - especially in places where the load is heavy. That is why we have decided to make some parts from the particularly elastic polyurethane.

When mechanical wear resistance and chemical/biological resistance are important, polyurethane is exactly the right material. In addition, it has an excellent damping effect and high abrasion resistance and is significantly less sensitive to cold and heat.

- » are resistant to oil, fuel and many types of chemicals
- » extremely low mechanical wear
- » maximum elasticity
